

Bombay blasts : Statement of Condemnation

July 12, 2006

Acts of Terror are acts of cowardice. Terror of the kind unleashed by eight bomb blasts in Mumbai's western railway line killing over 175 innocent victims need to be condemned unequivocally. Citizens for Justice and Peace condemns these acts and pledges itself to the campaign against violence of any kind. We pledge whatever support we can give to the families of the victims and for the brave Mumbaikar who chipped in all night to save the soul of the city.

Mumbai has already responded and will continue to respond with strong condemnation and resolve to fight the terror and empathy and compassion for the victims.

Terror, especially in the name of faith, defiles faiths and creates deep divides among people. This is the greatest challenge for us. Not to fall for the deep design of the terrorists and maintain peace and harmony at all costs. Do join CJP's campaign for calm, harmony, solidarity and hope. Against Violence.

Appeal

CJP is against the politics of violence and terror. Action after yesterday's terror is vital and critical. Help to find unidentified bodies, empathy for the victims, salutes to the courageous men and women who saved, yet again, the soul of this great city.

Give and Share Generously.
